

2005 Beacon Review – Remember Lessons Learned

February 2006

February – Corrosion under Insulation

April – Overheating causes explosion

The Beacon would like to thank the following volunteer translators for their help during 2005. Their efforts have made the Beacon a publication read around the world.

May – Fire in storage area

July – Piper Alpha oil platform destroyed (1988) - maintenance isolation

Robert Gauvin of Petromont for the French translations;
Vanessa Rodríguez with the United States EPA Office of Emergency Management, and Julio Miranda of Celanese Canada for the Spanish translations;
Dieter Schloesser of Basell for the German translations;
Paulo Haro of Petrobras for the Brazilian Portuguese translations;
Helder Figueira, Nuno Pacheco, Jorge Santana and Antonio Candeias with Repsol Polímeros for the Portuguese translations;
Li Yi of Kunming Cellulose Fibers Co., Ltd. for the Chinese translations;
Marc Brorens of Nerefco for the Dutch translations;
Alok Agrwal of Chalamandalam MS Risk Services Ltd. for the Hindi translations;
Cesare Mazzini and Monia Casana of Uniqema for the Italian translations;
Salem Alhajraf of the Kuwait Institute for Scientific Research for the Arabic translations;
Yigal Riesel and Shlomit Magidovich for the Hebrew translations.

August – toxic reaction in sewer

November – Hurricane Katrina – emergency response for natural disasters

CCPS and the members of the Beacon Committee thank Adrian Sepeda for 3 years as the CCPS Staff Consultant responsible for the Beacon.

Did you know that you can download past Beacons starting in March 2005 from the Chemical Engineering Progress (CEP) web site (<http://www.aiche.org/CEP/>) if you are an American Institute of Chemical Engineers member or have access to an electronic subscription to CEP?